

HARVARD IMMIGRATION AND REFUGEE CLINICAL PROGRAM (HIRC)

of HARVARD LAW SCHOOL

Have questions about your immigration status?

Want to travel during the summer?

Is your family visiting for commencement ceremonies?

Are you interested in internships and mapping out future potential immigration remedies?

HIRC staff attorney, Jason Corral, is offering legal consultation and representation to undocumented and DACAmented Harvard students and is happy to answer questions and address concerns about the state of current immigration policies, priorities, and procedures. He is available for walk-in hours: Monday-Wednesday, Friday, 3:00 to 4:30 pm.

Additionally, HIRC offers consultations with our Clinical Social Worker, Liala Buoniconti, as part of the legal representation team. She can assist students with a variety of concerns including stress management, family issues, and concrete resources. She is available for walk-in hours on Tuesday from 3:00 to 4:30 pm or by appointment on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays.

To schedule an appointment with Jason and Liala, please contact Nilce Maldonado at nmaldonado@law.harvard.edu.
